NURSES' NOTES

ST. LUKE'S HOSPITAL
SCHOOL OF NURSING
CLEVELAND, OHIO
1961

My Guide

Each day before I rise from bed
I bow my head to pray . . .
That God will render strength and aid
To guide me through the day.
I pray that He will lead my feet
As I go from room to room . . .
To render my service to any need;
Put a smile on faces of gloom.
My hands I dedicate to my work
I'll do the best I can,
Striving to help at every hour
Each person . . . woman or man.
And as I pray I remember my mind,
For alert it must stay all the day long,
Alert to each symptom . . . each whimper of pain,
Alert to each order . . . so none will go wrong.
Each night before I climb into bed
I remember to bow my head and pray,
To thank my God for all He's done
To make me an efficient Nurse today.

Dedication

They have understood our problems, assisted us with patience of steel, listened to our complaints with an admirable smile, inspired us with confidence, encouraged us when we were disheartened, and enhanced our chance for success.

Their determined effort to make us satisfied and happy shall always be remembered as one of our most precious life long memories. Words cannot express our appreciation for their various contributions; but to show how much we love, honor, and respect them, the 1961 Saint Lukes Nursing Class dedicates the '61 In Tenebris Lux to the parents of the graduating class.

OUR LEADERS

MR. THEODORE THOBURN

Mr. Theodore Thoburn, President of St. Luke's Board of Trustees since 1951, was graduated from Allegheny College.

He was elected to membership in St. Luke's Hospital Association in 1944 and to its Board of Trustees in 1949.

As President of the Board, Mr. Thoburn's duties are largely concerned with activities and policy matters of the hospital involving the Board of Trustees.

MR. KENNETH SHOOS

Mr. Kenneth Shoos, a graduate of Adelbert College and Western Reserve University, holds the position of hospital superintendent. His responsibilities include maintenance of hospital policies and methods.

Being active in national, state and local hospital activities, Mr. Shoos has recently been appointed National Chairman of Methods Improvement Committee of the American Hospital Association and is a member of the Advisory Committee of the Cleveland Blue Cross.

MR. JAMES STARTZMAN

Holding the position of Assistant Superintendent since 1954, Mr. James Startzman lends a helping hand to the Superintendent.

A graduate of Western Reserve University, he received his Masters degree in Hospital Administration from the University of Minnesota.

As Director of Nursing, Miss Carol Randall heads both Nursing Service and the School of Nursing.

Miss Randall, a graduate of St. Luke's, received her Bachelor of Science degree from Baldwin-Wallace College and her Master of Science in Nursing from Western Reserve University.

Besides her many duties here, she is very active in several graduate nurses' organizations. In 1960 she was cited by the Cleveland Council and League for Nursing for her contribution to the field of nursing.

Miss Carol Randall,
Director of Nursing.

The position of Associate Director of the School of Nursing is held by Miss Diller.

Being a graduate of St. Luke's, Miss Diller in addition to receiving her degrees from Bluffton College and Illinois State Normal University did post-graduate work at Western Reserve University.

Among other things her duties include planning the curriculum, assigning rotations, and keeping records of grades.

Even with this busy schedule she finds time to be a member of the Ohio League for Nursing Board and State Chairman for the Ohio League for Nursing.

Miss Carol Diller, Associate Director of School of Nursing.

Miss Ann O'Connor, Associate Director of Nursing Service.

Staffing the Nursing Service Department is one of the many duties of Miss Ann O'Connor, the Associate Director of Nursing Service.

Among her duties she finds interviewing and hiring new employees, coordinating the monthly rotations and the Inservice Education of head nurses, supervisors, and graduate nurses.

A graduate of Pennsylvania Hospital in Philadelphia, Miss O'Connor also received her Bachelor's degree from Western Reserve University and her Master's degree from Columbia University.

She is also a member in several professional nursing organizations.

The Supervisor Was Notified Immediately– Supervisor–568

Mrs. Keck, Mrs. Shaw.

Miss Buckovina, Miss Burnett, Miss Mirosavich, Mrs. Bibel, Miss Malinowski, Miss Heller.

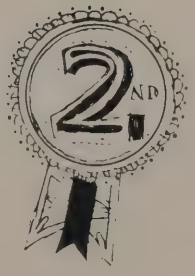

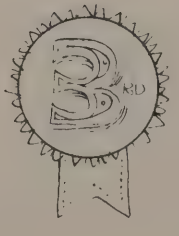

The main task of our supervisors is to oversee the total nursing care given to our patients. Although excellent nurses in their own realm, they have acquired many of the "unseen" duties. This includes various and sundry things, such as: making out time schedules to insure adequate staffing of divisions day and night; procuring and reporting an accurate hospital census; and explaining procedures, hospital policies and nursing forms.

In all of these ways, the supervisors assure us that the emotional and spiritual as well as the physical needs will be met through adequate and competent care.

DEPARTMENT HEADS

Dr. Seigal, Pathology.

In a hospital our size many departments are necessary for its proper functioning. Capable leaders must head these departments. In their hands is the task of organizing, directing, teaching and coordinating these activities to obtain the ultimate goal of service to our patients. These services are provided by each department. Dietary, research, diagnostic, therapeutic and rehabilitative measures are among the many facilities offered here.

Their ultimate satisfaction is achieved only when all aspects of health and well-being are restored to the best of their capabilities.

New X-Ray Department

Constantly putting St. Luke's Hospital on the map is the Medical and Surgical Research Departments. Unknown to most of us is the scope of their work, but we ever thank them for their silently carried out and extremely important role.

In keeping with constant hospital progress is our newly completed X-Ray Department. This department provides many new facilities for the care and comfort of the patient and is a valuable asset for both the patient and the doctor. It will be completed in 1961.

Dr. Inderlied, Dr. Wertman, Dr. Brannan, Radiology.

Caretakers of 242 Student Nurses.

Miss Merselis, Residence Director.
Mrs. Crowther, Assistant Residence Director.

Many people are involved in making our residence a "home away from home." Miss Merselis and Mrs. Crowther are always willing to help us with activities and listen to our problems.

Dr. Endicott and Mrs. Meyers care for us when illness arises.

Mrs. Panec keeps us in touch with our alumnae.

Miss Blair, librarian, is indispensable when we need literary material, and information.

Other people that play an important part in our lives are our receptionists who keep a watchful eye on us around the clock.

Involved in keeping our residence a place of which we are always proud is our housekeeping department under the supervision of Mrs. Balogh and Mrs. MacKay.

Dr. E. Endicott, Mrs. Meyers.

SENIORS

Senior
Snaps

Senior privileges, money making projects, and working charge nights and evenings are a few things that characterize our senior year.

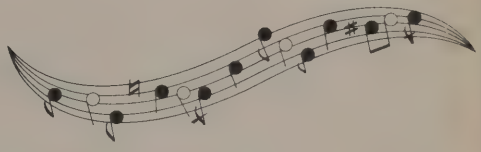

Who will ever forget the Peds Growth and Development project, bidding farewell to one-third of the class as they depart for affiliation at Toledo State Hospital, or the Stunt Night trophy?

In order to finance the yearbook, we undertook various money making projects. Our senior door-to-door salesman made a success of the candy sale, but those MONKIES! Characteristic of our monthly bake sales was a hub-bub of excitement in the recreation kitchen on the night before the sale.

After getting firmly established in our first senior rotation, we found ourselves busily preparing a skit for Stunt Night. Our presentation, "The Wizard of U.N.," brought us the first place trophy. "Anyone for revising the script?"

Our next big undertaking was the Christmas Bazaar and Chili Supper. For weeks after this, the seniors were plagued with a full size replica of Rudolph, the red nosed reindeer!

Who will ever forget the look of joy on Carol Sonk's face when it was announced that she was "Miss St. Luke's." We were so proud of her.

Banquets and luncheons played a big role in the last half of our senior year. In May, the alumnae feted us to a luncheon at the Sommerset Inn. Then, in July, we were the guests of honor at the annual Junior-Senior Banquet.

February 18 was the date of the Sweetheart Swirl. Naturally, the seniors were there in full attendance because this was to be our last big school dance.

Finally, in August, with all our deadlines met, we presented the student body with our "long slaved over" yearbook and our gift to the school.

Now, with fond memories of our three years at Saint Luke's, we prepare for the culmination of our training—GRADUATION.

"This is my work, my blessing." This was the subject on which these five seniors were to speak. Each girl pondered the topic and wrote a speech which projected her own feelings.

January 25 was the big night. These girls presented their speeches in Prentiss Auditorium to members of the student body and faculty. The students were given a difficult task in choosing one of these speeches as best.

However, when the voting was completed, we were proud and happy to have Miss Carol Sonk as our "Miss St. Luke's."

September 15 marked the beginning of the long awaited Junior year for the class of 1962. The stiff white caps on their heads were still new as they delved into the many fascinating experiences the year was to hold.

Medical, surgical, obstetric nursing and the operating room; each was a wonder in its own realm. No one will forget their first isolation case, colostomy irrigation, fetal heart beat, and lastly their first operation.

Although they sound busy they still had time to work on money-making projects, the Junior-Senior Banquet, and attend many fraternity parties and other social functions.

THE CLASS OF 1963

The big day was finally at hand, September 16, 1960. One hundred and two somewhat apprehensive, but happy girls entered St. Luke's School of Nursing to become the biggest class in the school's history.

The first semester was a particularly busy one for the girls. Daily trips to Western Reserve, study hours and exams took up a great deal of their time, but they still managed to attend fraternity parties and carry out an adequate social rostrum.

The first day on the division, attired in their new, unwrinkled uniforms, the freshmen faced their morning assignment with mixed emotions. Many exciting tales are still being told about that day.

Class projects and the Sweetheart Swirl were outstanding events of the second semester. Of course, no one can forget counting the days until capping!

With classes at Reserve completed and well deserved caps perched high upon their heads, the Class of '63 is looking forward to another fulfilling year as a student nurse at St. Luke's Hospital, Cleveland, Ohio.

GRACE HOLMES

Our Student Government Officers for the 1960-61 season were installed into office at the annual installation assembly in late September, 1960. Each new officer was presented with the symbol of her office by the outgoing officer.

At this impressive ceremony, Mary Ann Paugh received the gavel, a symbol of the presidency, from 1959-60 president, Lois Hunger. Ann Noe, vice president, Grace Holmes, secretary, and Nancy Sprinkle, treasurer, were the girls elected to work with Mary Ann to make this year's student government one of the best ever.

1960 SGO Campaign

The scene is the residence recreation room. The occasion was the student government campaign. Early August, 1960, the twelve candidates for student government offices, with their campaign managers, presented a simulated political convention. The campaign managers presented speeches on their candidate's behalf, enumerating their many qualifications. Everyone was there from Lil' Abner to Dennis the Menace. Confetti and bits of newspaper were the main decorations while horns, whistles, pots and pans supplied the sound effects.

Published bi-monthly, the Lukeocyte serves to keep the student body informed of current happenings. Under the guidance of advisor, Ann Blair, the staff meets weekly to "brainstorm" for the coming issue.

Arts and Ideas is composed of a group of girls who wish to further their knowledge of the Arts. Miss Blair, school librarian, acts as advisor and takes an active part in the meetings. Two main themes were followed this year. The first was a music series which was a study of classical music. After the story behind the composer and the music was given, the record was presented then discussion started. The second theme was an Art series, a study of modern art. Finger painting proved enjoyable to all and free discussion on their work as well as that of others was most enlightening.

Arts and Ideas Discussion Group

The St. Luke's Choir, under the direction of Robert Gotwald, is an active group which contributes a great deal to the enjoyment of both its participants and its listeners.

The biggest activity of the year was the Christmas Concert, which featured an informal fireside song fest.

Among the other activities during the year were the Annual SNOGC&E Choral Festival, a television appearance and several programs for nearby churches.

The Junior Sextet, which is in no way connected with the choir, sang for several occasions in the past year. They sang for the Junior-Senior Banquet, Baccalaureate and other functions.

The group includes B. Fetters, P. Jaberg, K. Stegh, B. Shaw, C. Sherrett, J. Clay and A. Noe.

The choir, which meets once a week for an hour, is open to all three classes and is entirely voluntary.

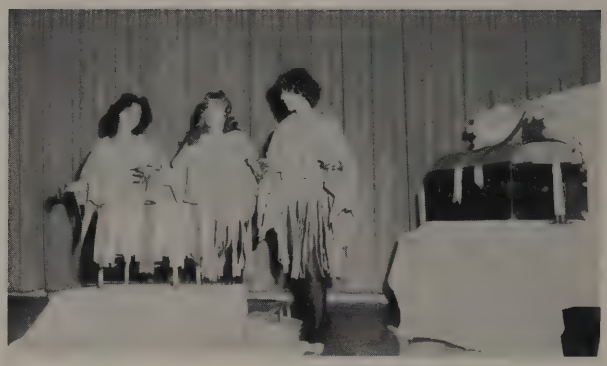

The officers of choir, under the able leadership of Janet Hall, president, and the pianist, Karen Kaylor, deserve special mention for the fine job they have done.

The Wizard of U.N.

The Travelleers

St. Luke's annual stunt night was held this year on November 17 in Prentiss Auditorium. Each skit was based on a book which carried out the theme of Stunt Night, "Novel Novelties."

The Freshman skit, "Snow White and the Seventy-seven Dwarfs" has for its basis Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs. The Juniors presented Macbeth in "Macbeth Goes Beat." The Senior class presented "The Wizard of U.N.," a skit dealing with the world situation.

Entertainment between acts was provided by The Fiji Four and The Travelleers. When all the entertainment was over, Dr. Frank Bruch announced that he and the other judges thought the Senior class skit best.

This year the Senior Class chose "Christmas Songs" as their annual Bazaar theme. Homemade baked goods, toothpick Christmas trees and "Angie" the Christmas tree angel were found among each floor's booth decor. A Christmas cake was awarded to Fourth Floor (center wing) for the most original booth.

Highlighting the day was a "Chili Supper" sponsored by the seniors and the appearance of Santa "Dr. Baka" Claus for the enjoyment of all.

Alumnae Luncheon

Speakers' Table

The Somerset Inn was the setting for the Cleveland General and St. Luke's Alumnae-Senior Luncheon held May 5, 1961. Despite the stormy weather, many alumnae and seniors arrived attired in gay spring hats and finery.

At the finish of a delicious lunch, attention was called to the speaker's table by the President of the Alumnae Association, Miss M. Burnett. Speakers included Miss C. Randall, Director of Nursing; Miss B. Shaw, Senior Class Vice President; Mr. K. Shoos, Superintendent of St. Luke's Hospital; and Mrs. I. Benninghoff, guest speaker, who presented a book review of James A. Michener's, "Hawaii."

THE STAFF

THE END!

Sincere appreciation is extended to the staff for their tireless efforts to present the IN TENEBRIS LUX of 1961.

These pages serve as a lasting memory to the graduating seniors. For the underclassmen, they represent thoughts of the future.

It is our hope that this is only the beginning of a prosperous journey to our life's ambitions.

After graduation, September 8th, 1961, many of us will never meet again on the path of life. Yet, each time we ponder these pages, our warm friendships in these memorable three years will be again renewed.

Last Will and Testament of the 1961 Graduation Class

Mary Helen Anderson leaves all her books from glamour school to her consultant, Carol Mijic.

Angie Augustine leaves all the fun she had listening to those excuses so woefully offered by infraction defendants to Nancy McDowell.

JoAnn Bacic leaves her talent to do a fast, bouncy polka to anyone who owns a "Roll Out the Barrel" recording.

Marcia Biggins leaves her Belaire accent to a northern Ohioan.

Ginny Birch leaves her over-drawn checking account to any junior that took a bookkeeping course in high school.

Carol Bojanowski wills her tone deafness to anyone who'd want it!

Pat Booth leaves her flower print Spanky pants to Carol Logan and sends Laura Liggett's Mack the Knife record to Ohio State U.

Bonnie Brogne leaves to posterity her good luck on the highways.

Joanie Clay leaves her fifty-nine inches to Kathy Killmeyer.

Bev Czack leaves to the future classes the instructor's favorite saying, "Just One More Thing, Girls," when it's four o'clock.

Sandy Dannis leaves her quiet manner to Pat Eastlick.

Dottie Donley leaves her room—Enough said.

Donna Dunham leaves her unoccupied apartment to hold parties in next year . . .

Dottie Diffenderfer leaves her memories of being late to work in Pediatrics to any junior who hasn't an electric alarm clock.

Barb Ewell leaves her seat at The Brick Cottage to her little sis, Nancy Heinlein, if she can find time enough to celebrate.

Marjean Ewing leaves her love for trail bologna to Darlene Hudak, if she can afford the prices at Fishers.

Barbie Fetter to Janice Finch leaves the straws Chuck and Dan used at the 1961 Sweetheart Swirl.

JoAnn Hodgkiss leaves the echoes of tap dancing on the fifth floor of the west wing to linger for many years.

Lynn Hodous leaves her many empty stationery boxes to Judy Clemens if she can write as many letters.

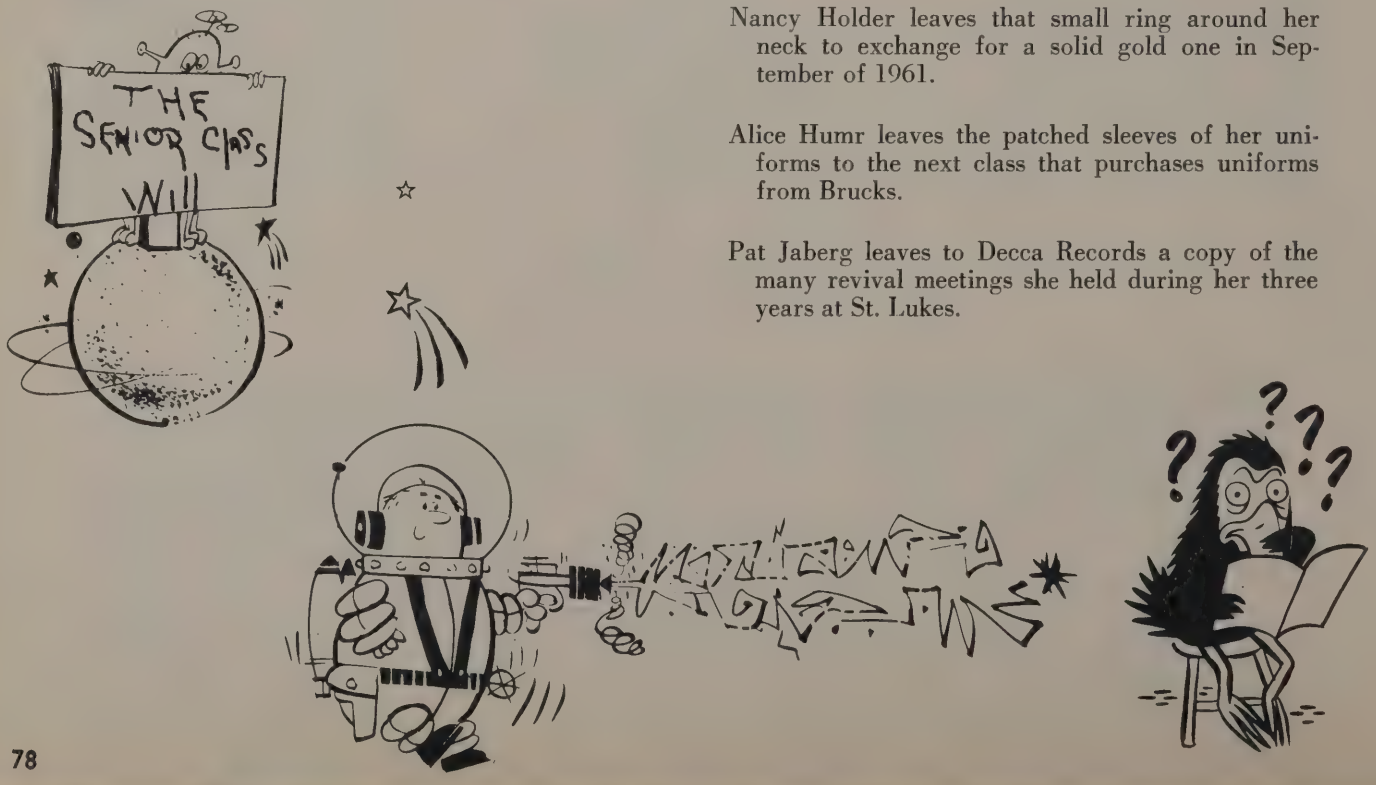

Sharon Hoffman leaves her familiar wool plaid bathrobe to pass on to her counselees to remember.

Jane Howard leaves her reddened face and the many times she broke dates at the last moment to Sandy Strock.

Nancy Holder leaves that small ring around her neck to exchange for a solid gold one in September of 1961.

Alice Humr leaves the patched sleeves of her uniforms to the next class that purchases uniforms from Brucks.

Pat Jaberg leaves to Decca Records a copy of the many revival meetings she held during her three years at St. Lukes.

Judy Kemp insists that she needs everything she has and wills nothing.

Sandy Kennedy leaves her many hospital stays to someone else, if they can pay the bills.

Linda Kinshaw leaves her ability to be completely unaware of the situation at hand to the next seniors who work evenings on 4 CE.

Laura Liggett leaves the nickname "Limey" to anyone who has whiter legs than she does.

Yvonne Lingehoel leaves her good times in Toledo to all the classes that have to go to Fairhill.

Linda Niuman leaves her rose-colored glasses to Karen Seeley.

Ann Noe leaves for four days only to return to Miss Allen and the world of little people, Pediatrics.

Joann Panek leaves to prepare home-cooked meals for Dick in Struthers.

Emily Parker leaves to Rox Sansone all the Italian cookbooks she has collected while going with Louie.

Mary Ann Paugh leaves her gavel and six empty P.A.C. bottles to the next President of Student Government.

Peggy Phillips leaves to Joanne Lenon her naturally grey hair.

Maureen Presley gives her last name back to Elvis next May when she changes it to Bailey.

Marianne Ranta leaves her memory to anyone who can "ace" courses as well as she did.

Carol Sabo leaves her thinning shears to Jo Potaro.
Brenda Shaw leaves her discussions with the Pinkerton man so long ago to Gayle Winter.

Carol Sherrett leaves the volume knob on her stereo to all the people who enjoyed the music while waiting for the bus and transit.

Carol Sonk leaves her trip to Ft. Lauderdale to anyone who could babysit and work for pay enough to finance it.

Kathy Stegh leaves a long engagement to a happy marriage.

Elaine Szeto leaves the corner date booth and a seat in the TV lounge to Diane Marks.

Carol Szilagyi leaves her guppies to be cared for to the next group of girls that live on the fourth floor.

Sue Theil leaves her temper to anyone who wants it.

Judy Thomas leaves a radiator full of cigarette butts (Old Gold) to anyone who attempts to stop smoking as many times as she has.

Penny Usher leaves her coordination to all future OR students.

Gretchen VanLinge leaves two boxes of stuffed monkeys for the senior class to sell next year.

Marge Villi leaves her powerful shower voice to out do any radio.

Marilyn Wick leaves her favorite saying, "Would you mind being a little quieter; I'm trying to sleep."

Mary Wilmot leaves screeching, "Pretz-eeeeel."

The fourth floor leaves to the second floor the reindeer they sent them last year for Christmas but was returned.

The fifth floor leaves their half faced clock that still doesn't run.

The Senior Class leaves their wonderful schedule of—8 hours of work, 4 hours sleep, 1½ hours overtime, ½ hour of studying, 5 hours of gripping, 1 hour 58 minutes to get through the lunch line, 2 minutes to eat, and 2 hours and 15 minutes to patch uniforms.
